THE M'KINLEY BILL

Considered by the Sub-Com mittee of the Senate.

LITTLE PROGRESS IS MADE

Owing to the Absence of Senate Allison-The Canteen in the Army. A Warm Discussion --- McKinley on the Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2 .- Two hours were spent by the Republican nembers of the Senate Finance Com nittee this morning in the further consideration of the tariff bill. The time was devoted to schedule D, wood and manufactures thereof. Progress was slow, considerable difference of opinion being shown over the rates of duty on timber at the beginning. There was considerable discussion upon the question of the tariff upon timber, but the attitude of the several Senators was not disclosed. One of the members of the mmittee to-day repeated the opinion that the bill would be ready for report this week. None of the schedules have been offered to the Democratic members for their inspection, as there are too many disputed and unsettled items to make them of any value to the minority in preparing their report. The tin plate paragraph, it is understood, has been passed over without action. passed over without action.

Messrs. Morrill and Sherman will not the with their associates on the commit-tee this afternoon owing to other en-gagements, so that the bill will then be in charge of the sub-committee of two years ago, Senators Allison, Aldrich, Ifiscock and Jones.

The sub-committee owing to the neces-sity for the presence of Mr. Allison in the Senate did very little with the tariff bill this afternoon. All the Republican members of the committee will continue the consideration of the bill to-morrow.

THE CANTEEN OUESTION

in the Army - The Conference Report WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2 .- The conference report on the Army Appropriation bill was taken up in the Senate and the question in regard to the proconference report being to the effect supplied in canteens, or in traders stores in States or Territories, where prohibition legislation exists.

Mr. Allison, who presented the report spoke in defense of it.

Mr. George asked Mr. Allison why the rule should be restricted to enlisted men, and should not apply also to officers.

Mr. Allison replied that the Senator must answer that question himself.

Mr. Hale predicted that if this canteer system went into effect that it would be ome so obnoxious that it would last but a little while.

Mr. Plumb suggested that the movement against the canteen system was in the interest of the post traders. The whole matter, he said, was a fight between the post trader and the canteen. If he had his way about the amendment reported by the committee, he would not stop with the man who had $13 a mouth, but would make it apply to every man in the Army, from the General down.

Mr. Hale replied to Mr. Plumb, and said that the movement against the can-

It was a serious and grave question; whether the United States government should now for the first time embark in the selling of liquor to its soldiers. It was not a question to be settled by a taunt or a sneer, or a personal allusion.

President to day sent to Congress a letter of the Secretary of State relative to the recommendations of the recent Pan-American Conference on the subject of customs regulations. The conference recommends uniform classification and a ing to receive and protect the proposed House Committee on Labor has author ized a favorable report with amendments on the resolution offered by Mr. Mason, of Illinois, for an investigation in regard to the eight hours of labor. As amended, the resolution authorizes a sub-committee of the Committee on Labor to take evidence at such places as it may determine during the present session, or during the recess, in regard to the establishment of eight hours as a day's labor, and in regard to the operation and enforcement of the eight hour federal law; and also to the advisability of establishing a minimum rate of wages to be paid laborers in Government amploy.

Will Be Passed, so Thinks McKinley-Th pecial says: Major McKinley said this "I believe a silver bill will though it is not a sure thing by any every direction, and I do not think we ought to adjourn before a silver bill is passed. The House will devote itself to the measure within a few days. Yes, this will be a long session. We will not adjourn, in my judgment, till late in August."

"The Senate will talk tariff for a whole month, I presume, and it may be August before the tariff bili is finally passed. No, I don't believe we will pass passed. No, I don't believe we will pass either a federal or an anti-gerrymandering bill. There is strong objection to all the measures introduced so far on those subjects."

Mr. Hale replied to Mr. Plumb, and said that the movement against the canteen was an honest and serious one, and did not originate with the post trader, who was going to lose his profits.

Mr. Plumb suggested to Mr. Hale, that he should sit down and write out such a proposition as he would like to see applied to himself as well as others.

Mr. Hale replied that the question was not one to be settled by personal allusions. It was a serious and grave constitute which is the strong which we have the should sit down and write out such a proposition as he would like to see applied to himself as well as others.

A Brute Cruelly Kills His Mistress on the Street.

In a manner especially cruel and defiant.

He had been all the afternoon trying to persuade the woman to come and live and sold for taxes. The claim was set yether previously. She persistently declined to do so, and turned to leave the room when Jackson drew a pistol, and fired, and followed the woman up the afrect, where he abother twice as she lay on the side-walk, and with up-lifted hands implored hum not to shoot her more. This occurred about moon, and in the presence of at least fifty women and children and a few men who were held by the murderer, who threatened viciously when they advanced tunon him. When certain of her death he kissed her and then shot himself in the left breast, but not fatally. Officers arrived and arrested the murderer as he lay beside his victim.

LONDON, June 2.-Parliament reas-recess. In the House of Commons, Sin James Ferguson, Secretary for Foreign Office, declined to lay on the table the the United Jtates concerning the Betring sea trouble until the question is settled. Sir James also stated that neither the French nor the English government had received any information of the landing from a French war ship of officers and men on the coast of Newfoundland, who ordered the Newfoundland fishermen to remove their nets, and upon their refusal to do so removed them themselves. He was sure, he declared, that the officers in both the English and French service could be despended upon to preserve a conditatory Engine and French service could be de-pended upon to preserve a conciliatory attitude bending an arrangement of the Newfoundland fisheries trouble. The government had every reason to be-lieve that the alarmist reports concern-ing the situation of affairs in Newfound-land were incorrect.

English Churchmen Alarme London, June 2 .- The movement for hurch disestablishment is arousing such alarm among churchmen. The much alarm among churchmen. The Earl of Selborne, a staunch upholder of the establishment, says that the movement must be regarded as within the region of practical politics, and to be guarded against the more vigilantly for that reason. He protests against the proposed disestablishment of the Church of Seotland, on the ground that the act of Union with Seotland made a solemn compact to maintain the Established Church in that, country. The English clergy are evidently greatly aroused to what they regard as a peril to their interests, and are raising funds for the detense of the Church.

Land Speculators Warned.

LONDON, June 2.-There is a great speculation going on at present in the shares of Kentucky and Tennessee land companies. In some cases the shares have rapidly risen until they now bring from 240 to 300 per cent premium. The London Economist warns speculators that their ventures are being greatly overdone, and predicts that the present inflated prices cannot be maintained.
